ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WESTFIELD, ILLINOIS, JUNE 17, 1905, AS SECOND CLASS MATTER, UNDER ACT OF CONGRESS OF JULY 16, 1894.

FALL OPENING

The college year, 1913-14, will open Wednesday, September the tenth. A program, consisting of the President's address, outlining some ideals of the Christian College and policies to be emphasized by Westfield, and other numbers not yet arranged, will be rendered, commencing at 1 o'clock p. m.

It is the purpose to make this a great event in the life of the College—a signal of the coming of the larger Westfield College for which we are looking. Pastors, former students, parents of present students, and all interested in the work of the College are heartily invited to attend. Sacrifice, if necessary, that you may, by your presence, help to give impetus to your educational enterprise.

COLLEGE LIFE AT WESTFIELD

The social and religious environment of the student at Westfield is conducive to the development of the higher life—intellectual and spiritual. There is none of the damp, chilly, and poisonous social and religious atmosphere, so dangerous to the college life in many places. The students of Westfield College come in personal touch with pure intellect and Christian character in the school, on the streets, and in the homes.

Christian Associations and Literary Societies, connected with the College, afford excellent social and religious opportunities, as well as for the development of power in self-expression by means of reading, debating, etc. Every student at Westfield is made to feel at home, and the early training in the Christian home and in Christian societies in the home-church is complemented, and those who have not had the advantages of this early training are encouarged.

The material conditions are conducive to aesthetic and physical health and strength. Some modern conveniences are not enjoyed, but this is insignficant when compared to the dangers and hindrances of the larger city. Electric light and water plants are being installed, and other modern improvements, we believe, are coming.

The true athletic spirit is encouraged and exercised. We recognize that under proper restrictions athletics for both boys and girls is essential to the healthiest development of body, mind and soul. A special athletic coach has been secured for the coming year.

Considering all, Westfield College offers excellent opportunities for the natural development of the student in scholarship and Christian manhood and womanhood. Subjects are not kept in the foreground and men in the background. The double purpose of scholarship and character go hand in hand. The ideal attainment for which the College stands is the harmonious development of hand, head, and heart, and it seeks to create a congenial environment in which this triune ideal may be realized.

DEPARTMENTS OF STUDY

The following departments of study and instruction are maintained:

The College

The college offers three groups of standard courses—the classical, the natural science, and the modern language—each of which leads to the A. B. degree. That our college courses are standard is shown in the fact that the work done here is recognized by the large universities—a junior of Westfield recently finished at Columbia in one year and a junior finished last year at Otterbein in a year. One hundred thirty semester hours are required for graduation.

The Academy

The academy provides an up-to-date preparatory course of four years work which qualifies for the Freshman class in any college. An elementary course in agriculaure is offered; commercial subjects may be elected from the commercial department; arrangements are being made to offer domestic science and domstic art. Our academy is fully accredited with the University of Illinois.

The Normal School

Three special courses for teachers are planned to meet the needs of those preparing to teach or those who want to go higher in the profession. The one year course gives a thorough review drill on the subjects required for a second grade County Certificate in Illinois. The two year course includes all the subjects required in Illinois for a first grade certificate. A certificate is granted the student by the College upon the completion of either of these courses. The four year course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Scientific Didactics. It will prepare for examination for a State Certificate. An eighth grade graduate can finish this course in four years. A junior of an accredited high school can complete it in two years. These courses are under the direction of those who know what the requirements of public school teachers are. We invite your investigation and comparison of these with the courses and opportunities of other schools. We can give you what you want. You can enter at any time.

The Commercial School.

The school of commerce provides three courses. The complete course, which requires two years to complete, leads to the Bachelor of Commercial Science degree. The one year Business Course is no more limited than the complete course except in the number of subjects pursued. It prepares well for bookkeeping or office assistant. The one year Shorthand Course. This is a complete course in stenography.

The School of Music.

The department of music offers complete courses in piano, voice, and violin. A Post Graduate course is also offered. The course in public school music has been introduced to meet the demands of those seeking preparation for the supervision of this subject. Investigate our courses and the character of instruction given before entering a college of music in some other school.

The Department of Expression

The school of expression includes elocution and physical culture. Those students who desire expert training in public speaking will find these courses strong and effective.

The Art Department.

The school of art includes courses in drawing from life, nature, still life, painting in oil and water colors, portrait class drawing and painting, china painting, wood carving, pyrography, leather tooling, public school drawing, and design. It also includes history and criticism of art. Diplomas and degrees are given.

The Correspondence School

The school of correspondence has been established to meet the wants of ambitious students who cannot for some reason study in residence. Inquire for particulars.

The Summer School

This department has been organized to meet the needs of teachers and students who desire to spend a part of the vacation season in review or in pursuing advanced courses of study. We will be prepared to offer instruction in most of the departments of study. The faculty will consist of members of the regular college faculty and other reputable instructors. The character of the work will be such that credit may be received. In 1914, the term will begin Tuesday, June 16, and continued six weeks. Enrollment and organization will be commenced Monday, June 15th, but students may enter at any time.

TUITION AND FEES IN DEPARTMENTS

	Per Semester
Matriculation fee—once a year	$1.00
College and School of Commerce	$18.00
Academy	15.00
Normal School	15.00
School of Music, per term	$4.00— 20.00
School of Art, per twenty lessons	8.00— 12.00
Tuition for Summer School	7.00

Reasonable laboratory fees are charged for some courses in natural science and for use of piano and typewriter.

APPROXIMATE COST FOR ONE YEAR

Table board, $3.00 per week, 36 weeks	$108.00
Furnished rooms, per week, 50c; 36 weeks	18.00
Incidental expenses, fuel, laundry, etc.	15.00
Books, $6.00 to $12.00	12.00
Total	$153.00

The tuition of the department added to this estimate will give the approximate cost for one year.

Thus it will be seen that the expense is much less than in many places, even where no tuition is paid, because of the low cost of living.

It will also be observed by comparison that the tuition charged is reasonable.
